Miss Candace

Miss Candace, Owner/Teacher

Let's talk about the heart of this place: Miss Candace herself.

She's been doing this for over 18 years, and it shows. She's got an AA in Early Childhood Education and Development and brings this almost intuitive sense of how to connect with each kid in her care. You know that rare kind of teacher who somehow remembers every detail about your child and notices when something's just a little off? That's her.

Candace has built a space that encourages academic curiosity, but also makes room for big feelings, wobbly moments, and learning how to be kind. Her approach is structured but warm; never rigid. Kids aren't just memorizing; they're understanding, exploring, laughing through mistakes.

Proudly Serving The Arlington Community

At Miss Candace's House, the environment feels more like a second home than a daycare center. Children are not simply dropped off and picked up: they're welcomed, known by name, and given the attention they need to feel secure and valued.

Our approach combines structure with flexibility. There's a predictable flow to the day, but we stay responsive to the needs of each child. If one needs more time with an activity or a little extra reassurance, we adjust. That's the advantage of a smaller, more personal setting. Children are not rushed, and their individual pace is respected.

Families from all over the area, from Smokey Point to downtown, have made Miss Candace's House their go-to daycare in Arlington, WA. It's not fancy. But it's real, it's safe, and it works. Miss Candace's House is
